Gustavia, St. Barth

St. Barth's capital, Gustavia, owes its name to the brief time the island was in Swedish hands and is a great place to hit exclusive shops before you head to more remote shores. Anchoring on the windward side of the island, the wide bay at St. Jean is protected by a reef and is an ideal place for kit or windsurfing. The fine, white-sand beach is overlooked by the Eden Rock Hotel.

Ile Fourchue

This deserted island lies just a few miles northwest of St. Barths. Once tucked into the bay, you can explore ashore by kayak and on foot (with just the goats for company). The snorkeling is good, with rays and turtles adding to the usual reef fish. The best dive site in the area is found off the southwest tip of the island.

Tintamarre

Once more you can enjoy the privileged access that a yacht offers by sailing to yet another uninhabited isle – 80 acre Tintamarre off the northeast corner of St. Martin. The most common word that seems to crop up when people talk about Tintamarre is “paradise.” This is what people imagine when you say “desert island;” there is no habitation, just turquoise water, white sand and palm trees.

Anguilla

Need To Know...

- Time Zone - The Islands Of The Bahamas is in the Eastern Standard Time Zone.
- Currency - The Bahamian dollar is held on par with the US dollar and both are accepted interchangeably throughout the islands. Credit cards and travelers checks are accepted at most locations on Nassau/Paradise Island and Grand Bahama Island. +PLUS and Cirrus ATMs can be found at banks on Nassau/Paradise Island, Grand Bahama Island and on most of the major Out Islands.
- Driving Laws - British rules apply, so please drive on the left and be extra careful on roundabouts. Visitors may use their home licenses for up to three months and may also apply for an international driver's license. Pedestrians should remember to look right before crossing streets.
- Duty-free Shopping - Most of the major islands have duty-free shopping on cameras, binoculars and telescopes, china and crystal, watches and clocks, jewelry, perfumes, fine linens and tablecloths, liquor and leather goods. Savings on these items are between 25–50% below US prices.
- Best Time To Visit - Anytime of year is great for visiting as the average temperature is about 75 - 80 degrees year round. It rarely rains in the "winter" months and doesn't get below 60 degrees.
- Music plays a big part in Bahamian culture. Throughout the islands, you'll hear traces of African rhythms, Caribbean calypso, English folk songs and our unique Bahamian goombay traditional music, which combines African musical traditions with European colonial influences. Goombay can be traced back to slavery and is storytelling and dancing performed to a fast-tempoed "goom-bahhh" beat on a goatskin drum.
- Bahamian Cuisine - Being an international destination, you can rest assured that you can find any type of food here. But while you're here, give your taste buds a chance to discover Bahamian cuisine. It's spicy and uniquely flavored. Seafood is the staple of our diet. Fresh conch scored with a knife and sprinkled with lime juice and spices is delicious. Other delicacies you'll enjoy are land crabs and the Bahamian "rock lobster." We also love fresh fish, especially boiled fish served with grits. Many dishes here are served with pigeon peas and rice mixed with spices, tomatoes and onions. Wash down our cuisine with a cold beverage like a Kalik or Sands (beers of The Islands Of The Bahamas), a Bahama Mama, or Goombay Smash. There's also a Bahamian favorite that we call "Sky Juice," coconut water blended with sweet milk and gin. And don't forget to try Switcher, a refreshing drink made from native limes.

More You Need To Know...

- Bush medicine is using indigenous plants for medicinal purposes. It's a tradition African slaves brought with them when they came here. There are almost 100 plants found here that can be used for medical treatment. Examples include aloe vera, crab bush, fig leaf, sailors' flowers and white sage.
- Junkanoo is uniquely Bahamian and exists nowhere else. It's an incredibly energetic, colorful parade made up of brightly costumed Bahamians dancing and "rushin" to the music of cowbells, drums, horns and whistles. It is widely believed that Junkanoo was created by John Canoe, an African tribal chief who demanded the right to celebrate with his people even after he was brought to the West Indies as a slave. Celebrated since the 16th or 17th century, today Junkanoo has grown into an organized event with groups of up to 1,000 persons competing for cash prizes for best music, best costume, dancer, banner and best overall group presentation. Traditionally held on New Year's Day, Boxing Day and Independence Day, parades are also held during the annual "Junkanoo Summer Festival" and the "Just Rush" competition. In addition, many hotels offer Junkanoo shows for their guests throughout the year.
- Religion is important in the lives of the Bahamian people. Even small communities have several churches. Our religious devotion is evidence of the Eleutheran Adventurers and their Puritan influences.
- Straw Market - Explore one of our straw markets and bring home a piece of Bahamian culture. You'll find handmade hats, mats, baskets, woodcarvings and guava jellies. Test your bargaining skills and get a good deal on a great piece.
